

Resin Kit Sculptures

These are solid, white resin, hand-cast sculptures that come in parts, to be assembled. A "small" degree of skill is required (like that of building a plastic model car). Explicit instructions are included for building and painting the kits as shown here. Or, we can provide names of professionals that can build your kit as seen here.

Scale affects price a lot. A 1/4 scale kit may have 5 times as much resin as a 1/6th scale kit.

Ebay alert

Illegal knockoffs of Mike James' kits are being sold on ebay. Some kits are incomplete or poorly cast. The ONLY place in the world you can be sure of getting a complete and authentic Azimuth Design kit is HERE, the artist's website. Do not support recasters. And do not contact the artist regarding validity of ebay kits; he will not respond to such inquiries.

Note: In the past, we have found our photographs illegally reproduced. We have also found our kits illegally laser-scanned for creation of CGI characters. This is copyright theft. Unless written permission for specific usage is obtained from us, or a proper licensing contract agreed upon and signed, Azimuth Design is within it's rights to take immediate legal action against the infringer. All original costume designs of both the kits and drawings are also protected under our character copyrights. You need to contact us if you wish to use, in whole or in part, any of our characters for any reason, in any medium. We do consider licensing proposals.
